CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.

2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:

   a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution’s supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.

   b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.

4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

1. PURPOSE
To appoint a service provider to undertake a situational analysis towards the development of a National Guideline on coastal rehabilitation and stabilization as a priority in terms of the National Coastal Management Programme of South Africa.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND
The National Environmental Management: Integrated Coastal Management Act (No. 24 of 2008) (ICM Act) entered into effect in December 2009, with the objective of balancing the benefits from economic development and human uses of the coastal zone, the benefits from protecting, preserving, and restoring coastal zones, the benefits from minimizing loss of human life and property, and the benefits from public access to and enjoyment of the coastal zone, all within the limits set by natural dynamics and carrying capacity of the coastal environment.

One of the principle mandatory requirements of the Minister responsible for Environmental Affairs ("the Minister"), within section 44 of the ICM Act, is the preparation and adoption of a National Coastal Management Programme ("the NCMP") for the management of the coastal zone. The NCMP must be a policy directive for Integrated Coastal Management for the country and must provide for an integrated, co-ordinated and uniform approach to coastal management by organs of state in all spheres of government, nongovernmental organisations, the private sector and local communities. It is one of the most powerful integration tools provided for within the ICM Act and represents national government’s commitment to a suite of priorities, management objectives and actions with tangible outcomes contributing to the steady achievement of the national vision for coastal management.

The National Coastal Management Programme (NCMP) was officially launched on the 14th March 2015. The NCMP contains the key priorities, management objections and actions for coastal management that are to be achieved over the next 5 years. These priorities, objectives and actions are the result of extensive stakeholder consultation.

During the stakeholder consultation phase, some of the key problems identified were:

- The large degree of diversity in terms of engineering approaches and methodologies for coastal rehabilitation and coastal stabilisation;
- A prevalence of poor choice in materials or methods used to stabilise and/or rehabilitate the coastal environment which are often not sustainable or result in adverse impacts on the coastal environment;
- A lack of “step-by-step” and area/environment-specific instruction on how to conduct rehabilitation and stabilisation in a number of key areas (e.g. dunes, previously mined areas, etc.); and
A lack of current national guidelines to deal with the above.

As part of the first phase implementation of the NCMP, the first priority guideline planned for the 2015/16 financial year is a guide to coastal rehabilitation and stabilization, which is intended to cover a wide scope of technical guidance, design considerations and methodologies for key consideration areas detailed in the objectives below. The guide is intended for organs of state and coastal practitioners that intend to implement coastal rehabilitation and stabilization measures that are environmentally sustainable and aligned with the integrated coastal management principles, international best practice and cognisant of the specific coastal environments along the South African coastline.

3. OBJECTIVES
This project aims to develop a national guide to coastal rehabilitation and stabilisation for the coastal zone, which includes:

- Rehabilitation and stabilization for:
  - Dunes;
  - Beaches;
  - Sand banks; and
  - The littoral active zone in general.

- Ecosystem-based rehabilitation which includes:
  - Vegetation and re-vegetation of:
    - buffer strips;
    - wetlands; and
    - salt marshes.

- Dredging and the disposal of dredge spoil material;

- Estuary mouth management (including the breaching of closed and partially closed estuaries);

- Groynes, breakwaters, sea walls and jetties;

- Retaining walls and revetments;

- Footpaths and walkways;

- Vehicle access tracks;

- Hard and soft engineering approaches for piers, jetties, walkways, revetments, tidal pools, recreational structures, etc.
The project intends to cover the following key deliverables:
