CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

1. This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.

2. Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

3. Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
   a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution’s supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
   b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.

4. This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

5. In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of the terms of reference is to appoint a credible and experienced service provider to assist the Department of Environmental Affairs (DEA) estimate the individual and total effect of policies and measures (PAMs) to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emission in South Africa. In addition, the socio-economic impact of these PAMs should be assessed as part of the response measures impact.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

2.1 South Africa, as a party to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), has an obligation to submit National Communications (NCs) every four years and Biennial Update Reports (BURs) in between NCs to report its current standing on climate change in terms of its efforts to mitigate climate change as well as efforts and analysis in the area of adaptation. In as far as the mitigation of climate change aspect of this is concern, quantification of the total effect of policies and measures on emission reductions has always been a gap in the system for the country. The recent work on mitigation potential analysis (MPA) that the DEA published in 2014 focussed on quantifying the mitigation potential of mitigation technologies or interventions and not on the PAMs. The Paris Outcome prompts the need for countries to look at the impact of response measures they take to address or mitigate climate change. In order to utilize resources efficiently, this piece of work will be conducted in conjunction with the quantification of PAMs. Thus, as the PAMS’s contribution to emission reduction is quantified, the study will also look at the socio-economic impact the country will experience as a result of implementing the respective PAMs, particularly the newly introduced ones.

2.2 The MPA, and other previous studies on mitigation potential in South Africa, modelled the impact of a range of interventions which actors in the South African economy can make to limit greenhouse gas emissions. Government’s role is to develop and implement a set of measures which create an enabling environment for the implementation of these interventions. Thus, Government’s policies and strategies define the general policy direction and provide the necessary environment and context for specific government measures that lead to direct action or directly impact on abatement actions taken by other economic actors.
2.3 The PAMs are here defined as policy instruments implemented by government and applied across the economy, over a wide range of sectors, in order to help South Africa achieve its emission reduction goals. The PAMs may include regulatory instruments (specifically legislation, regulations and standards), economic instruments (for example, incentives and taxes), government procurement programmes or direct and indirect investment by government. These may be cross-cutting (across more than one sector) or specific to individual sectors or subsectors – and may achieve abatement through action by government, or induce action by others.

2.4 Many government departments and agencies, cities and provinces, are already implementing measures which have mitigation as a goal (for instance the emissions constraint in Integrated Resource Plan 2010), or have significant mitigation benefits (for instance energy efficiency measures and the extension of efficient public transport, such as bus rapid transit systems). The PAMs will be quantified from key sectors and subsectors of the economy – using the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) categories. The Department commissioned work to map and describe various PAMs in 2014/2015 – but did not quantify the effect of these mix of measures on emission reduction. The outcome of this work should be one of the inputs into the current exercise.

2.5 The UNFCCC Paris Agreement resolves that countries, particularly the developing countries should as they implement enhanced action to address climate change, communicate information on the social and economic impacts of response measures that they assume to deal with climate change. The Department would want to go further beyond the PAMs estimation and also conduct a socio-economic impact of these PAMs to the country.

3. OBJECTIVES

The main objective of this project is to estimate the individual and total effect of policies and measures (PAMs) on emission reduction and assess the socio-economic impact of these PAMs as part of the impact of response measures. The project has two main Immediate Objectives. Immediate Objective A and B. The Objectives are explained in greater detail below (Sections 4.2 to 4.3).

4. SCOPE AND EXTENT OF WORK

4.1 The role of the service provider(s) is to estimate the individual and total effect of PAMs on greenhouse gas emission reduction in South Africa. In addition, the socio-economic impact of these PAMs, should be assessed. To achieve this objective, the service provider must address the following two main immediate objectives, namely:

(a) Estimation of the individual and total effect of PAMs on emission reduction; and

(b) Socio-economic impact of these PAMs as part of an assessment response measures.

For the work to be completed, the following immediate objectives have to be met:

4.2 Immediate Objective A: Policies and Measures (PAMs)
4.2.1 The service provider shall organize policies and measures by sectors (IPCC categories). Each sector shall have its own textual description of the policies and measures, as set out in 4.2.2 below, supplemented by Table 1. Some information such as the effect of policies and measures may be presented in aggregate for several complementary measures in particular sector or affecting a particular gas.

4.2.2 The presentation of each policy and measure shall include information on each of the subject headings listed below. The presentation should be concise and should include information on the detail suggested after each subject heading:

(a) Name and short description of the policy or measure;

(b) Objectives of the policy or measure. The description of the objectives should focus on the key purposes and benefits of the policies and measures, including a description of activities and/or source and sink categories affected. Objectives should be described in quantitative terms, to the extent possible;

(c) The greenhouse gas or gases affected;

(d) Type or types of policy or measure. Use, to the extent possible, the following terms: economic, fiscal, voluntary/negotiated agreements, regulatory, information, education, research or other;

(e) Status of implementation. It should be noted whether the policy or measure is in the planning stage or is adopted or whether it is under implementation. For adopted and implemented measures, additional information may include the funds already provided, future budget allocated and the time-frame for implementation;

(f) Implementing entity or entities. This should describe the role of national, state, provincial, regional and local government and the involvement of any other entities.

4.2.3 The service provider shall provide the description of each policy and measure reported, as appropriate, a quantitative estimate of the impacts of individual and collection of policies and measures. Such information shall include estimated changes in activity levels, emissions and removals due to adopted policies and measures reported and a description of the methods used to perform the estimates. Information should be presented for a particular year such as 2000, 2005, 2010, 2015, 2020, 2025, 2030, 2035, 2040, 2045 and 2050.
4.2.4 The service provider shall reflect the effect of these PAMs on emission reduction by comparing their contribution against the “business as usual” scenario (exclude all policies and measures implemented, adopted or planned after the year 2000).

4.2.5 The service provider shall also estimate the impact of individual and collection of PAMs based on following scenarios:

- “With existing PAMs scenario” - encompass currently implemented PAMs (up to 2015); and
- “With planned PAMs scenario” – encompass currently implemented, adopted and planned PAMs; and 4.2.6 “With additional PAMs scenario” - in addition to currently implemented, adopted and planned PAMs, this also encompass new and proposed PAMs (the new and proposed PAMs are those that can be implemented to fill the gap in order to meet the South Africa’s National GHG Emission Trajectory. The service provider shall therefore recommend PAMs that can be adopted and implemented in the medium and long-term, as appropriate, give a quantitative estimate of what impacts individual policies and measures or and collections of policies and measures would make in terms of emission reduction to meet the National GHG Emission Trajectory. The service provider should take into cognisance the work that the DEA will be doing on the Nationally Determined Contribution (NDC) and National Emission Trajectory to make sure that there is alignment.

4.2.7 The National GHG Emission Trajectory can be summarized as follows:

- South Africa’s GHG emissions peak in the period 2020 to 2025 in a range with a lower limit of 398 Mt CO$_2$-eq and upper limits of 583 Mt CO$_2$-eq and 614 Mt CO$_2$-eq for 2020 and 2025, respectively.
- South Africa’s GHG emissions will plateau for up to ten years after the peak within the range with a lower limit of 398 Mt CO$_2$-eq and upper limit of 614 Mt CO$_2$-eq.
- From 2036 onwards, emissions will decline in absolute terms to a range with lower limit of 212 Mt CO$_2$-eq and upper limit of 428 Mt CO$_2$-eq by 2050.

Table 1: Demonstration table of how to report on Policies and Measures
Immediate Objective B: Socio-economic impacts of the PAMs as part of the impact of response measures

The focus of this will be to:

4.3.1 The overall objective of the assessment is to investigate the impacts of PAMs analysed in section 4.2 above on multiple levels. Firstly, the administrative cost of implementation of PAMs by government will be investigated. Secondly, the costs and benefits accruing to government, sectors and companies will be considered. Thirdly, resultant job-creation or job-losses and new industries created or existing ones enhanced due to adherence to PAMs will be considered. Solutions related to job losses and creation should consider Just transition of the workforce, and creation of decent and quality jobs. Finally, the macroeconomic impact of implementing the PAMs on the South African economy as a whole will be investigated.

4.3.2 Quantifying the economic impacts to South Africa as a result of implementation of the PAMs. The methodology used on the macroeconomic impacts should be based on economy-wide techniques. The standard macroeconomic variables such as the real GDP, the main components of GDP, sector value added, employment by skill classification and inflation should be considered.

4.3.3 The impact of the response measures or PAMs on vulnerable sectors, e.g. trade exposed sectors must be investigated.

4.3.4 The social impact analysis will focus on how the full implementation of the PAMs will affect the welfare of households. The possible monetary and non-monetary benefits as a result of reducing emissions through upscaled implementation of the PAMs will also be considered.

4.3.5 Where possible, clear recommendations on economic diversification and transformation to accommodate the implementation of the PAMs or response measures to address climate change broadly should be made.

4.3.6 The study must also conduct impacts of the PAMs on the non-GHG environmental sectors such as land, waste management, biodiversity, water and air pollution.
4.4 Immediate Objective C: Draft Report

The Draft Report covering Immediate Objectives A and B will be subjected to an independent review and public consultation process to ensure quality and credibility. The service provider shall work with the independent reviewers to address both independent review and public consultation comments. The cost of the independent reviewer shall be borne by the service provider (need to be included in the quotation to respond to these TORs). The outputs associated with this immediate objective are as follows:

An independent review comment and response database – a populated table that lists, at least: the source of comments; the comment; a cross-reference to the Draft Report; and proposed responses to the comments.

4.4.1 An independent review and response report – a report that provides an analysis of the comment and response database including, among others: an analysis of comment sources; areas of common concern; and recommendations on how key and/or common comments should be addressed.

4.4.2 A public consultation comment and response database – a populated table that lists, at least: the source of comments; the comment; a cross-reference to the Draft Report; and proposed responses to the comments.

4.4.3 A public consultation public comment and response report – a report that provides an analysis of the comment and response database including, among others: an analysis of comment sources; areas of common concern; and recommendations on how key and/or common comments should be addressed.

4.5 Immediate Objective D: Final Report published.

4.5.1 The Report should be written in a way that fulfil the requirements of the UNFCCC National Communication. It should contain in it the Executive Summary which should not be more than 10 pages long and should be written in such a way that its content is understandable to policy makers and the general public.

4.5.2 The service provider should produce a user-friendly model which will be used for future updates on this work.
4.5.3 The service provider should produce a user friendly step by step guide which will be used for future updates on this work. The manual should be written in easy to understand language and this must take into account the UNFCCC developments on requirements for the estimating the total effect of PAMs and impact of response measures work.

4.5.4 All materials generated as part of this project remains the property of the DEA. Materials spreadsheets, presentation, data collected, models or any other materials generated as part of this project.

4.6 Immediate Objective E: Skills Transfer

4.6.1 The service provider is expected to work closely with the Chief Directorate Mitigation and will provide in-depth on the job training. This will include regular meetings with DEA staff during data collection, analysis and modelling.

5. EXPECTED DELIVERABLES / OUTCOMES/ DELIVERY DATES

   a. The project will commence following the signing of a contract between the department and the appointed service provider must be completed within 8 months after the signing of the SLA by both parties.

   b. All work is to be carried out in accordance with the work-plan and time schedule agreed by the Project Steering Committee and at the inception meeting.
